PRINCIPAL'S NEWS

16th August 2019

I had minor eye surgery this week, and as a result there has been no screen time, an absence of Netflix and I haven't been able to read for more than a few minutes at a time. If I'm honest it is only the reading I have missed. Usually I bemoan the countless emails that make their way to my devices day and night, but I really miss reading in all of its forms.

It is how I keep in touch with my family and friends. It is the primary way I inform myself around matters of interest. It is something I do for enjoyment and it is an important means of communication between myself and my colleagues.

Classrooms are very similar. A walk around at any time of the day will find children reading for enjoyment, or reading to learn. They will be reading Maths problems, or reading for information and then sharing their learning. Some will be practising reading to an audience so that they can confidently and competently lead Courtyard prayer while others will be learning how to make things by reading an instructional text.

Please make sure you share your interest in reading with your children. Let them see that you are a reader, show interest in their reading, and if you have smaller children, read together at every opportunity. No matter what changes into the future, reading is a competency that will always be valued and enjoyed. Supporting young readers is one of the greatest gifts a parent can give, and you and your children will both love it.

LOST PROPERTY

Lost property has been moved to the central location behind the staff administration building to make it more accessible to all staff and parents. If you are missing any items please have a thorough look when you are passing by Mulgrave Street administration.

MULGRAVE STREET CROSSING

This week flashing light school zone signs were installed on our Mulgrave Street Crossing.

St Patrick's was nominated to receive these new signs as part of a Queensland Government commitment to improve school road safety.

You will notice that the new signs look similar to standard school zone signs with the addition of a red flashing ring around the speed limit as well as two flashing yellow lights at the top of the sign. The installation of flashing light school zone signs is proven to improve visibility of school zones, serving as an active reminder for motorists to slow down.
